

RBC Wealth Management Dominion Securities

January, 2017

It's my pleasure to inform you that Andrew Troy was named the 2015 President of the President's Club in recognition of the quality of service he provides his clients and his leadership within our firm.

The President of the President's Club is one of the highest honours awarded to an advisor at RBC Dominion Securities. Hardworking and dedicated to offering clients an exceptional experience, Andrew is well deserving of this honour. He consistently demonstrates a high level of professionalism and is a respected member of our firm, representing all the values we stand for: trust, integrity, and a conservative approach to investment management.

Proud of RBC's corporate citizenship, Andrew himself is passionate about making a difference within his own community. Outside of the office, Andrew volunteers with several children's charities, as well as vision-impaired athletes. He is an avid endurance athlete.

Please join me in congratulating Andrew on this career milestone.

David Agnew
CEO, RBC Wealth Management Canada